CHATEAU SAINT -PAUL 2016

90 Points, James Suckling

Vintage: 2016

Appellation: HAUT MEDOC

Grape Varieties: 55 % Merlot - 39 % Cabernet Franc - 6 % Cabernet Sauvignon

Tasting Notes: It has a deep ruby color, with an intense nose of red fruits such as cooked red berries and ripe plum. It is also complemented by hints of dark chocolate and vanilla. On the palate, this is a medium bodied wine, but very textured, with medium acidity. The tannins are moderate, soft, chewy and well integrated. It is tasty and juicy, with a medium finish. This is an appealing wine, well made, and most importantly, it is a good example from a Northern Medoc wine. The wine is ready to be enjoyed, on its own why not, but we suggest pairing it with pizza, a good roasted chicken, or a good hamburger. -Nadia Sanchez”

CHATEAU CORDET 2016

Vintage: 2016

Appellation: MARGAUX

Grape Varieties: 60 % Cabernet Sauvignon - 33 % Merlot - 5 % Cabernet Franc - 2 % Petit Verdot

Tasting Notes: "It is made within a parcel of Château Monbrison in Margaux. It shows a deep garnet color, with intense aromas of cassis, blackberries, and brambles. This is all joined by a tomato leaf and a ripe green pepper note. Aromas of vanilla complement the whole. In the palate the wine has high acidity, it is medium to full bodied, and shows coarse tannins. Medium finish, elegant and pleasant. This is a wine that can be enjoyed better with food, along a cheese plate, a burrata with olive oil, or pasta dishes with a good amount of parmigiano. For meat amateurs, this can be a very good option to go along an aged steak. -Nadia Sanchez "

97 points Jeb Dunnuck

Vintage: 2019

Appellation: PESSAC-LEOGNAN

Grape Varieties: 70 % sauvignon - 30 % SÉMILLON

Tasting Notes: "I loved the 2019 Domaine De Chevalier Blanc, which has the crisp, racy, yet concentrated style of the estate that few others can achieve. Gorgeous white peach, mandarin orange, honeyed minerality, and a kiss of toast all define the bouquet, and it hits the palate with medium to full-bodied richness, integrated acidity, plenty of concentration, and a great finish that picks up some obvious minerality. This stunning juice needs 3-4 years of bottle age and will evolve for 2-3 decades if stored correctly. It's probably the white of the vintage."

Vintage: 2020

Appellation: COTES DE PROVENCE

Grape Varieties: 28 % Grenache, 24 % Syrah, 21 % Cinsault 16 % Mourvèdre, 11 % Tibouren

Tasting Notes: The Rose expresses the singular balance of the island, its sunny and pure atmosphere, bursting with nuance. The impression is harmonious, carried by white-fleshed fruit, sometimes citrus, and an unexpected persistence for a Provence rose, the signature of a strong wine making ethos. A bouquet of freshness and delicacy, the wine is carried by a saline note and a hint of bitterness that prolongs the tasting, like long summer days one wishes would never end.

Cote Rotie Château de Montlys (90 points, Robert Parker)

Vintage: 2014

Appellation: Rhone

Grape Varieties: 100% syrah

Tasting Notes: “Fresh and lively, with an herbal edge to its cedar, dried flowers and mulled red and black fruits, the 2014 Côte Rôtie Château de Montlys is medium-bodied, rounded and nicely textured on the palate. Possessing sweet tannin, juicy acidity and solid mid-palate depth and richness, it will drink well for 10-12 years.”

Cote Rotie Fleur de Montlys (91-93 points, Robert Parker)

Vintage: 2013

Appellation: Rhone

Grape Varieties: 100% syrah

Tasting Notes: “The 2013 Côte Rôtie Fleur de Montlys is one of top releases from the estate and comes all from the Cote Brune lieu-dit. Incorporating 10% Viognier and completely destemmed, it will see 30 months in new French oak prior to bottling. Easily the most voluptuous, sexy and layered in the portfolio, it offers up terrific notes of black raspberries, crushed flowers, olive and a kiss of bacon fat in a medium-bodied, seamless and textured style. It’s already hard to resist, yet I suspect a few years in the cellar will do it good, and it should have 15-20 years of overall longevity.”

DOMAINE DE BARONARQUES ROUGE 2014

Vintage: 2014

92 Points, James Suckling

Appellation: LIMOUX

Grape Varieties: 46% Merlot, 28% Cabernet Franc, 13% Syrah, 4% Cabernet Sauvignon, 9% Malbec

Tasting Notes: “ The wine has a beautifully clear, dark, and deep colour. The highly refined nose reveals delicate ripe fruit aromas in which bilberry and blackberry mingle harmoniously with judicious oak. Airing adds spice and liquorice notes to this wide array of aromas. After a fresh and precise attack, elegant tannins coat the palate with a dense and rich texture. Perfectly mature red fruit flavours are set off by attractive peppery and spicy notes, while the long and complex finish reveals attractively intense fruit.”
